

Development environment

API v3

Production environment

API v1

API v2

A bug present in API v1.

The diagram illustrates a bug in the production environment. It features two main containers: 'Development environment' on the left and 'Production environment' on the right. The development environment contains a box labeled 'API v3'. The production environment contains two boxes, 'API v1' and 'API v2'. An arrow points from the 'API v1' box in the production environment to a yellow sticky note on the right. The sticky note contains the text 'A bug present in API v1.'.